COP SIMULATION

10 YEARS OF THE PARIS AGREEMENT

Students for Climate

On December 11th, we will celebrate the 10th anniversary of the Paris Agreement and COP 21! On this occasion, we are inviting students from across the country to take part in a COP simulation. Later that same day, some of them will be selected to represent youth voices in the public debate "Paris, Belém... What next?". This initiative aims to empower young people by giving them the opportunity to share their visions and commitments with one another. Ahead of the event, an online tutorial will be proposed to participants to help them prepare for the simulation.

What is the Paris Agreement?

The Paris Agreement is an international treaty signed on December 12, 2015, during COP21. It was a historic milestone as all the participating countries committed to limit global warming to 1.5°C. This effort is vital to protect our planet and our future!
