What students say

"As a PhD chemistry student, I found the lectures on marketing, communication and economics incredibly eye-opening. They gave me tools that I rarely come across."

Viktoria

"Working in a multicultural team with people from completely different fields was incredibly enriching and changed the way I approached problem solving".

Kristina

"The biggest turning point for me was working with our mentor, Hervé. His guidance, availability and insight helped me make real progress on our corporate partner's challenge."
