

Dear,

Further to my December update, please note five of our 18 programs are now closed to new applicants for Summer 2018.

This is the earliest we have closed programs to new applicants. And, since applications remain unprecedentedly high, we are advising students who may be interested in joining any of our remaining Summer 2018 programs to apply soon.

Please share this update with your students and invite them to learn more about – and apply to – our work, study and travel abroad programs via:
