

Ethics in science:

Code of Conduct or Source of Dispute?

A topical discussion on research, rules and philosophy

Organized by the Humboldt Club Czech Republic in cooperation with the German Embassy Prague

21st November 2017 – 5:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.
at the German Embassy Prague

With contributions by

Prof. Dr. Dieter Sturma, chair of philosophy at the University of Bonn, Director of the Institute of Science and Ethics and of the German Reference Centre for Ethics in Life Sciences, Director of the Institute for Ethics in Neuroscience at the Research Centre Juelich

doc. PhDr. Irena Parry Martínková, PhD., Vice President of the European Association for the Philosophy of Sport, Associate Professor at the Charles University in Prague

Mgr. et Mgr. Marek Vácha, Ph.D., Head of the Institute of Ethics of the 3rd Medical Faculty of Charles University in Prague, theologian, Roman Catholic priest

Moderator: David Vaughan, writer and broadcaster

After the debate you are cordially invited to a small reception by H.E., Ambassador Dr. Christoph Israng.

RSVP until 15th November 2017 Please register on www.prag.diplo.de/AvH-Ethics +420 257 113 218

German Embassy Prague
Palais Lobkowitz, Vlašská 19, 118 01 Prague – Malá Strana
www.prag.diplo.de